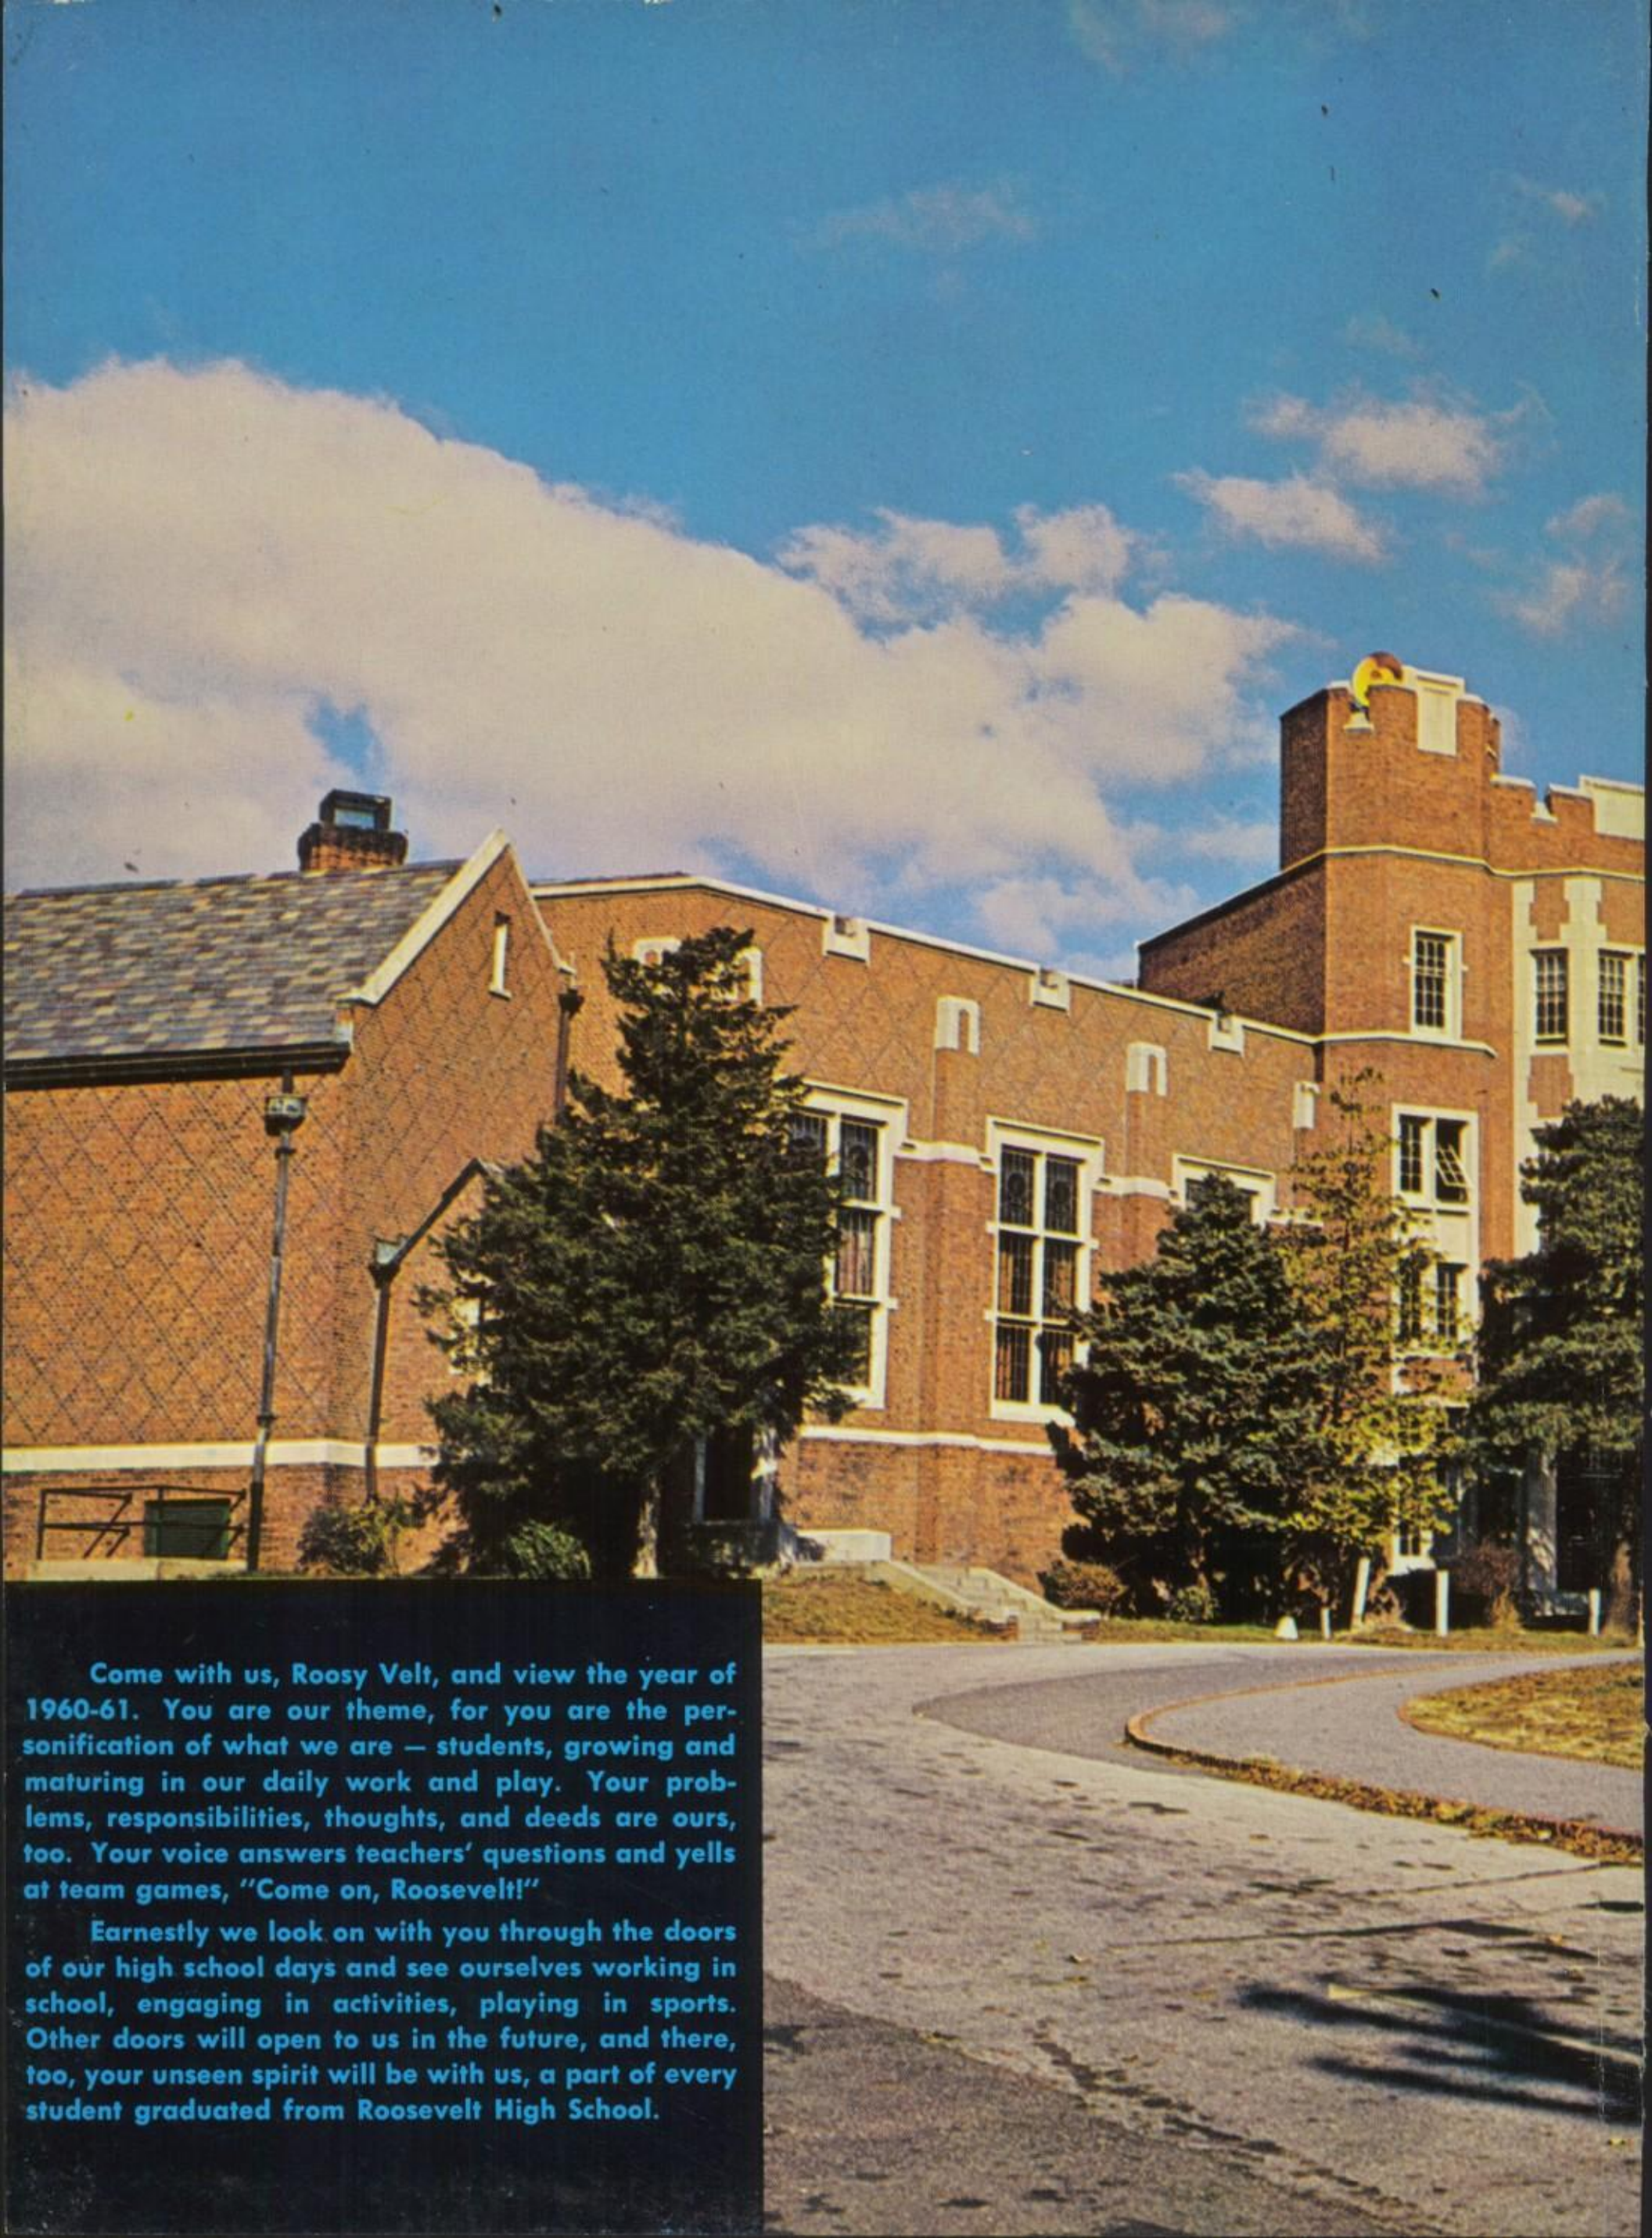
ROOSEVELT HIGH SCHOOL

YONKERS, NEW YORK



Come with us, Roosy Velt, and view the year of 1960-61. You are our theme, for you are the personification of what we are — students, growing and maturing in our daily work and play. Your problems, responsibilities, thoughts, and deeds are ours, too. Your voice answers teachers' questions and yells at team games, "Come on, Roosevelt!"

Earnestly we look on with you through the doors of our high school days and see ourselves working in school, engaging in activities, playing in sports. Other doors will open to us in the future, and there, too, your unseen spirit will be with us, a part of every student graduated from Roosevelt High School.

DEDICATION

It is a privilege indeed to dedicate L'Envoi 1961
to our principal,

Harold F. Reagan.

Sincerity and devotion to the task of running a school have been the by-words of his administration. His quick understanding of the true Roosevelt spirit has kept high both the academic and athletic standards. In all situations, his decisions have had obvious good reasons, and the justice behind them has always been clear.

We know that this year, his first here at Roosevelt, has been beset with difficulties: certainly the construction program has added to his burdens. Yet, throughout, his judgments have been made with a keen eye to the future growth and improvement of Roosevelt. Many of the other obstacles he has surmounted we may never realize, but we do truly appreciate these and countless other efforts in our behalf. Many of us too have profited by personal contact with him, and have appreciated his understanding and sincere interest in our affairs. His goals have become ours — to enable each student to realize his potentials, and Roosevelt to attain her proud place in education.

As a sign of the respect and admiration we feel for you, as well as the success and happiness we wish you, we are proud to offer to you, Mr. Reagan, the dedication of L'ENVOI 1961.

IN MEMORIAM

On the thirtieth of January, 1961, a sturdy pillar of Roosevelt High passed peacefully away. Leigh "Doc" MacCurdy was more than a coach, more than a gym instructor, and more than just any human being. "Doc" was an orator who would thrill the hearts of his fortunate listeners; he was a second father who would befriend and beguile all students; most of all he was a symbol, a symbol of sportsmanship, leadership, and of everything good in Roosevelt itself.

During his twenty years as coach in football, baseball, track, and even hockey, he earned for Roosevelt an awesome reputation. From bare essentials, he built championship teams bubbling with spirit and determination. He trained his athletes mentally as well as physically, and many graduates were steered toward successful sports careers through his efforts.

"Doc" gave a never forgotten thrill to every student as he proudly accepted the ear-shattering cheers which greeted him each time he attempted to speak. Moments later, these students would beam in admiration at the stirring eloquence roaring through the assembly. "Doc" never used a microphone, nor did he need any other device to supplement the warmth inside him.

Whether in his red cap and maroon jacket, or business suit, "Doc" was a true champion of Roosevelt. He lived a full and fruitful life, and won countless numbers of friends.

Of him it may truly be said,

"Whose powers shed around him in common strife,
Or mild concerns of ordinary life,
A constant influence, a peculiar grace."

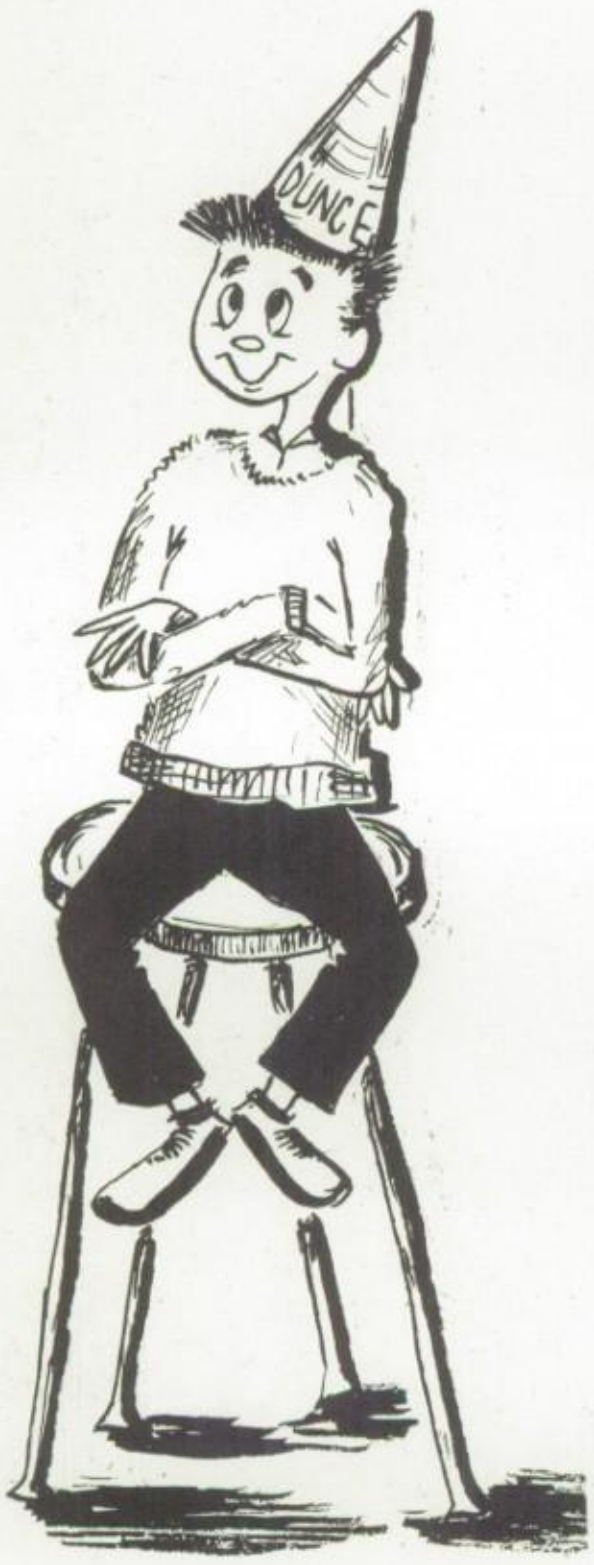
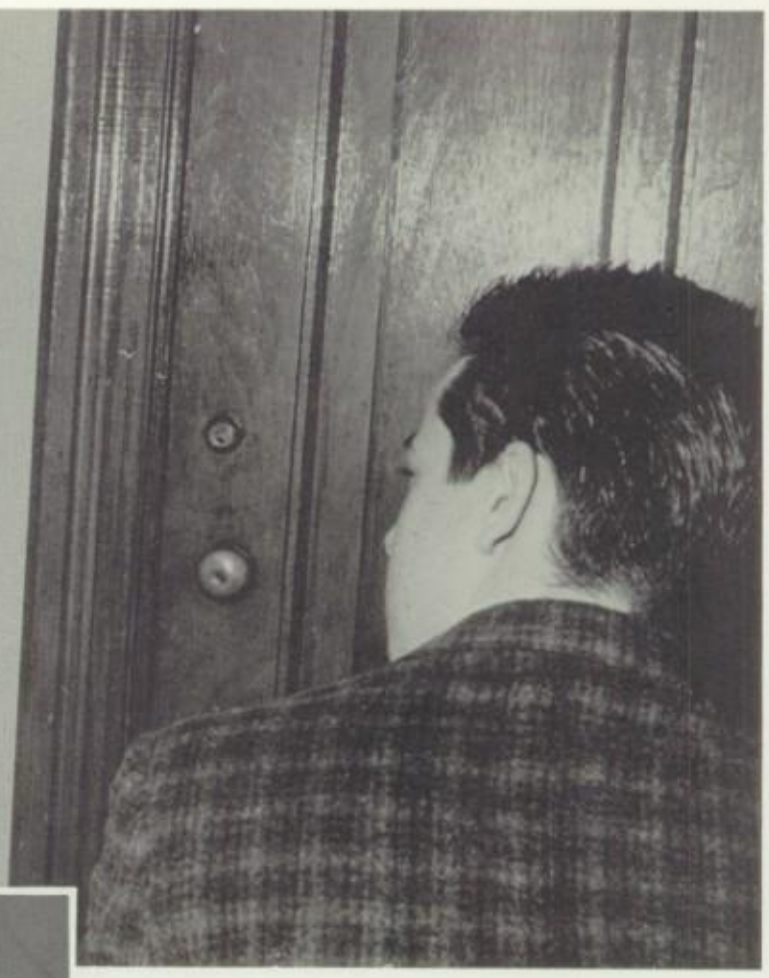
FACULTY



dedicated to the development of young minds.



MR. KEENAN gives some sage advice.

MR. REAGAN, our busy executive.

MR. KEENAN and MR. REAGAN engage in top-level conference.

MR. THOMAS J. KEENAN
Assistant Principal

For the fourth time in three years, Roosevelt High School has a new principal. Mr. Harold F. Reagan came to us from Hawthorne Junior High School, bringing with him a sincere interest in the problems confronting the teachers and students of a high school, and the astute judgment with which to alleviate them.

Our assistant principal, a relative "old-timer" at Roosevelt, likewise travelled from Hawthorne to us. Mr. Thomas J. Keenan, whose comradeship and authority have characterized his administration, is a familiar sight to all.

Especially in the turmoil of construction, Roosevelt has been endowed with a competent, confident, and amicable administration. The students, the teachers, and these two men themselves are an unbeatable combination. Roosevelt, its spirit and reputation, will never die, when guided by men like Mr. Reagan and Mr. Keenan.

GUIDANCE

"Getting to know you" is a familiar theme in Roosevelt's GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT. In all problems, able and sympathetic counselors guide the student to a quick solution and aid him in selecting the courses for which he is best suited.

The entering sophomores, beset with confusion and the need for adjustment, can conquer these problems with readily available, patient help. The junior, overwhelmed by unending tests, is met with understanding and excellent analyses. Then seniors, anticipating future education or business, are thoughtfully advised and aided in their selections. They learn that many factors, previously unrealized, are important in the final vocational choice.

As our school expands, so does our Guidance Department. We heartily welcome Mrs. Gertrude Tyrrell, junior and senior girls' counselor, and Mrs. Mary Troy, guiding the sophomore class, who have joined Mr. Melvin Guttman, junior and senior boys' counselor in the very active guidance offices.

"Wouldn't you like to know what I'm writing here," says Mr. Guttman.

Mrs. Troy plots the sophomores' formula for success.

Emily Bardack and Mrs. Tyrrell look over Emily's courses at Bryn Mawr.

See how neatly Mrs. Tyrrell files information!

ENGLISH

"Young Lochinvar has come out of the west," declares Mrs. Rogel.

Mrs. May Henry, Coordinator of English Instruction in Yonkers.

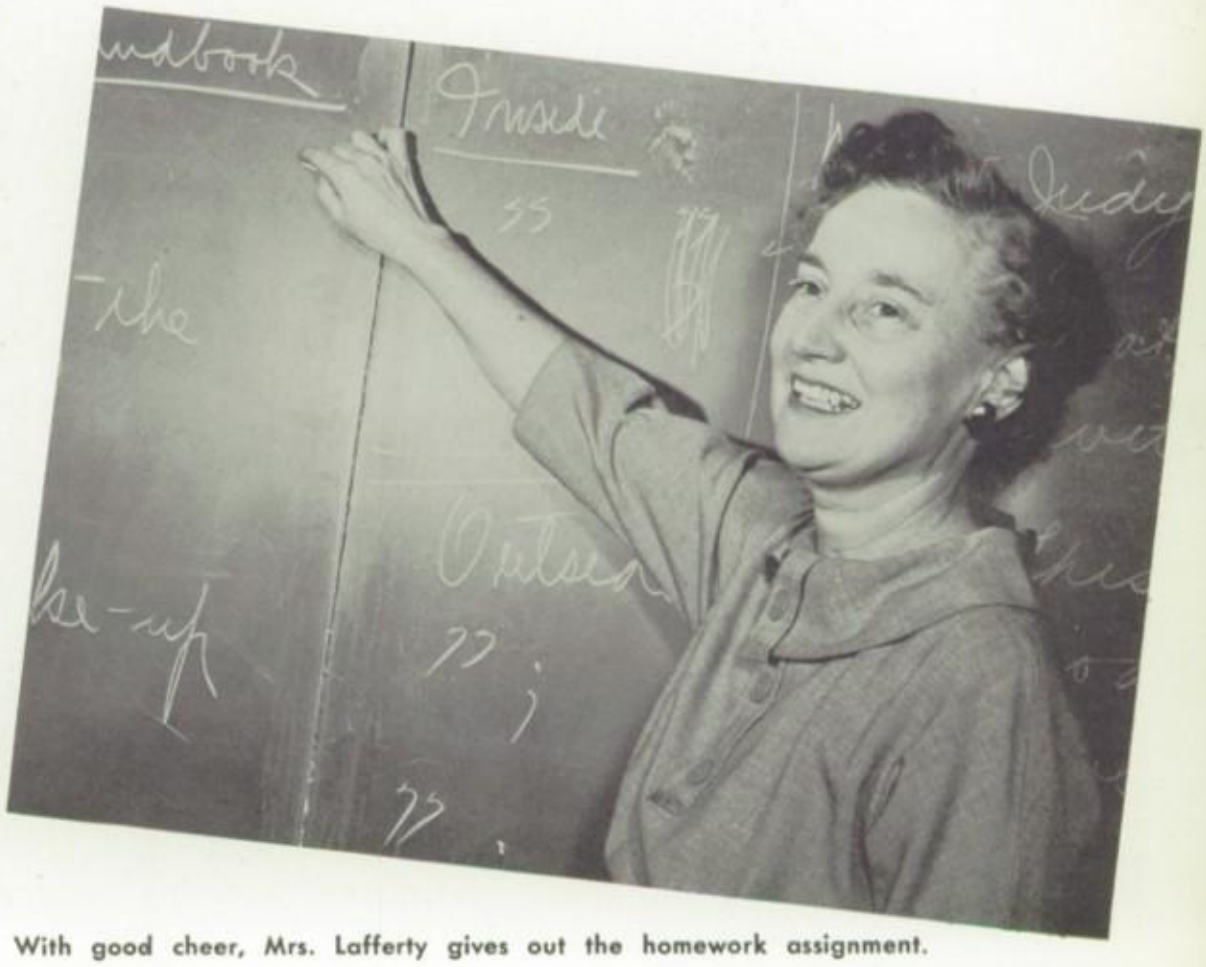
"What kind of a book are you looking for?" asks Miss Havey, librarian

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT — Mrs. May Henry, Mrs. Hildegarde Rogel, Miss Katherine Willner, Dr. Ruby Kaiser, Mrs. Florence Lafferty. Standing: Mrs. Aldona Brucker, Mrs. Mabel Chappel, Mr. Austin Kilcullen, Mrs. Francine Fettman.

Trying to get a point across is sometimes harder than understanding solid geometry or French. Yet it is of major importance for the successful citizen to understand and be understood. This is the primary goal set for us by the ENGLISH DEPARTMENT.

Through an effective use of grammar, comprehension, vocabulary and word relationships, we learn to appreciate the complexities and to find the beauty of the English language as expressed in the great literature, past and present. Our school library offers a diversified selection of the best literature. As part of the program too, many of us attend plays and see enacted before us great dramas, from Shakespeare to O'Neill, from classical to contemporary.

We reach our senior year, and there face the omnipresent senior theme; however, with the patience and understanding of our English teachers, this seeming chore is transformed into a delightful search for future knowledge.



With good cheer, Mrs. Lafferty gives out the homework assignment.

HISTORY

Seated: Miss Alice Scott, Miss Irene Montgomery, Mr. Ivan Bottenstein.
Standing: Mr. Adam Downar, Mrs. Claire D'Amore, Miss Agusta Williams, Dr. Catherine Cleverdon, Mrs. Lillian Mayer.

"Maybe we'll get a little history done today," hopes Dr. Cleverdon.

Interpreting man's life and discovering his destiny in a world characterized by sudden change is the challenge offered to students by the HISTORY DEPARTMENT.

To get a proper perspective, it is important to learn the facts of history, from the days of the caveman to the days of Kennedy; however, the interpretation of that material in the light of other trends and movements is even more essential. Critical thinking, involving both subjective and objective evaluation, intelligent reading, and listening are integral parts of the training given in the history courses. Viewing newscasts on television, visiting historic places like Sagamore Hill and the U.N., and digesting magazines and periodicals and the Times, have become well-grounded habits.

The study of cultural and social influences leads to a better understanding of nations. Certainly with the guidance of the informed, interested faculty, we students have received this deep satisfaction and rich reward from the study of history.

"Wake up to the Times," says Bill Maclean.

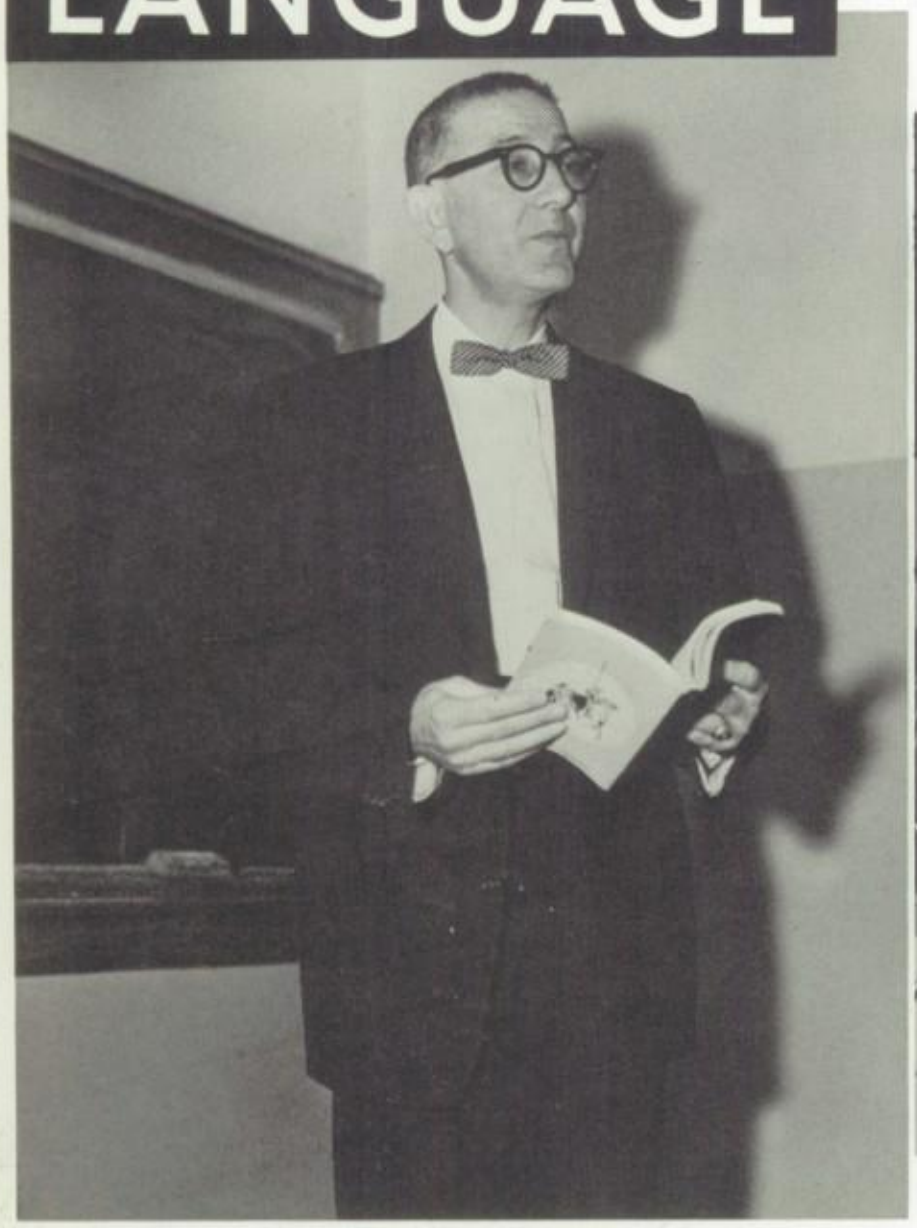
Everyone loves Mr. B's jokes! Well, practically everyone!

". . . and if T. R. were here . . ." says Miss Montgomery.

LANGUAGE



Mr. Morse personifying perfect pronunciation.

Peter Assail thinks Dr. Walter has an interesting point there.

Bonnes vacances ! S. Buckley

Seated: Mrs. Gertrude Rodner, Dr. Sadie Walter, Mrs. Gertrude Steiner. Standing: Dr. Walter Kaufmann, Miss Elizabeth Flavin, Mrs. Suzanne Buckley, Mr. Louis Morse.

Mrs. Steiner surveying the work of her Latin scholars.

Try as we may, we cannot appreciate the people of other countries without understanding their language. Their culture, customs, and history remain meaningless, unless that key — language — opens the treasure chest of knowledge.

Whether it be French finesse, German gesundheits, Spanish siestas, or Latin scholarship that you seek, our LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT is skillfully trained to introduce us to other peoples. Not only do we acquire skill in basic grammar, comprehension, and writing, but we also learn the customs and heritage of our international friends.

In accordance with the present trends in secondary education, Roosevelt offers a real challenge to language students. To enable them to master the finer points of the language, courses in fourth year Latin, French and Spanish are available.

Whichever language a student chooses, he will be the gainer, for the understanding of other peoples is a big step toward harmony and peaceful coexistence.

Who's asking the question, Miss Flavin?

SCIENCE

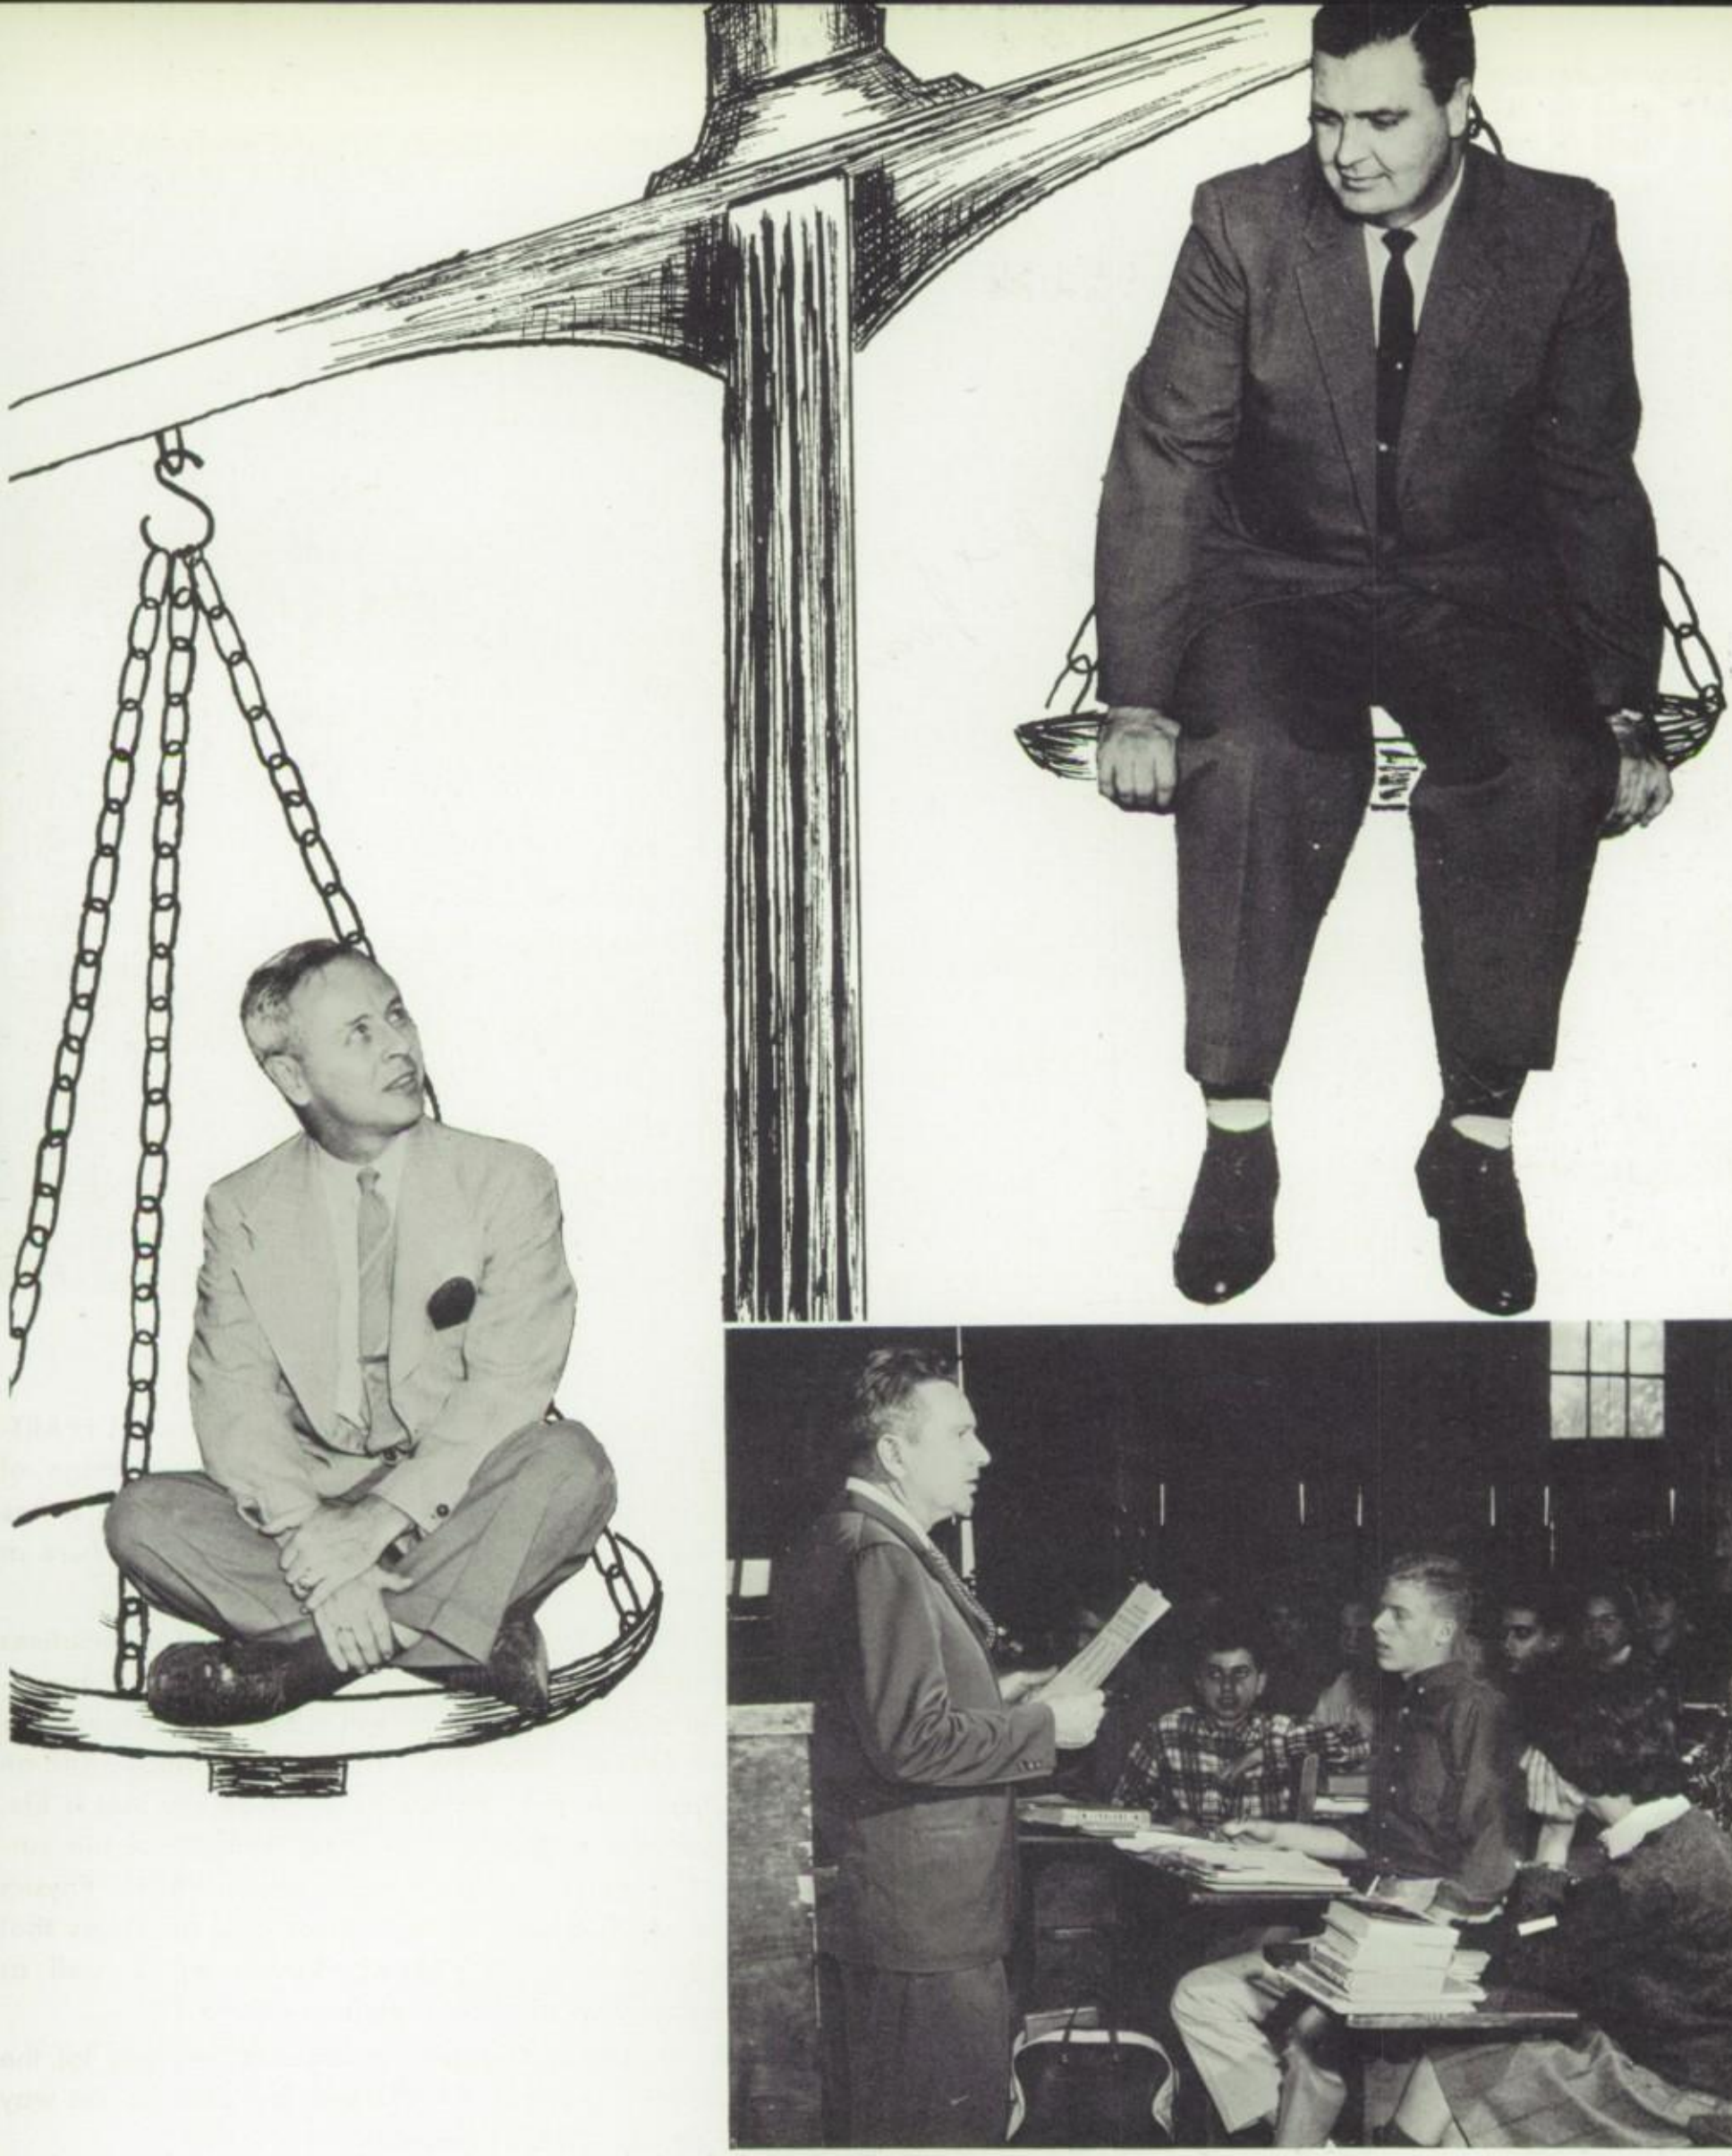
Seated: Miss Margaret Dignan, Mr. E. Eisenberg, Mr. J. Rodner. Standing: Mr. D. Aitcheson, Mr. B. Worthington, Mr. T. Martin.

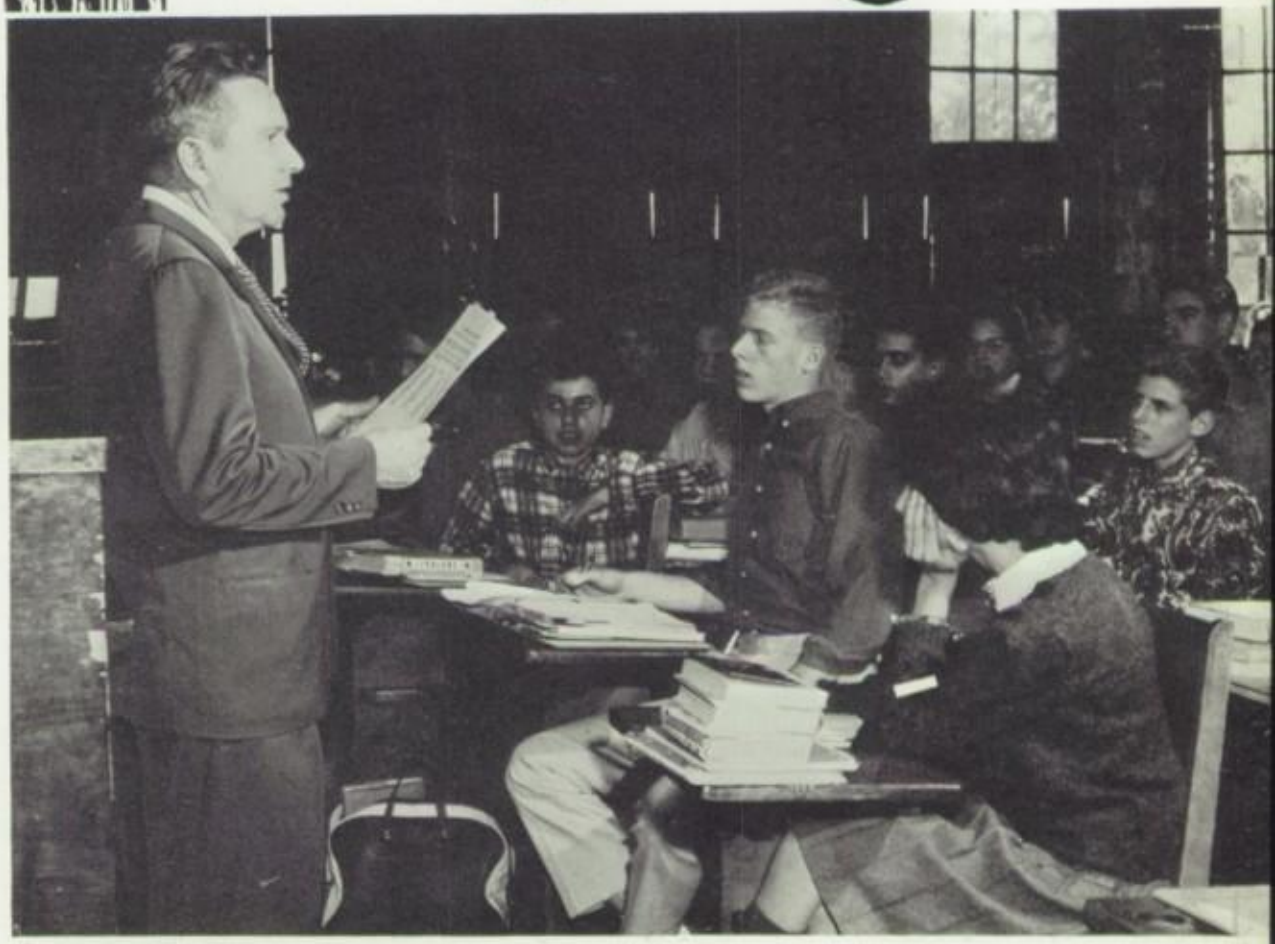
"With a bigger slide rule we could be more accurate," says Miss Dignan.

"Worry no more," says our SCIENCE DEPARTMENT to those who complain of the shortage of scientists today. Thanks to excellent teachers, a fine science background is offered to all students here at Roosevelt.

Skilled teaching opens to us the intense disciplines of individual, logical thinking and accurate experimentation and research. In biology we are given our first detailed contact with botony and zoology and an opportunity to understand the complexity that is life. Chemistry teaches us the exact makeup of our surroundings on the atomic and molecular level. Physics acquaints us with all the forces and principles that keep our elaborate society functioning as well as those forces which are basic in nature.

Accordingly science is valuable, not only for the scientific knowledge it conveys, but also for the way it develops one's character.





"And now for the latest 'scientific developments' from the office," says Mr. Martin.

A well-balanced pair, Mr. Worthington and Mr. Aitcheson.

MATHEMATICS

Best of luck! M Gabin

The finer points of mathematics are demonstrated by Mr. Goder.

Because the diameter of mathematics is growing larger every day, the circumference of the math courses at Roosevelt has expanded at great lengths. Every instructor has encompassed larger areas in his courses to encourage the process of real thought and logic on the part of each student. This new ideal is an addition to the wonderful field and subtracts only the old oblique ways of teaching and using mathematics.

Mr. Luther Van Anden, head of department, and his very competent staff, offer three algebra courses, two geometry courses, and trigonometry. College math is also available to the Roosevelt students to prepare them to meet with knowledge and capability, the situations before them.

We know that in the future the department will only multiply its success and provide for the students the time and encouragement to meet each new challenge, to the end that they may all be successful in this field of mathematics and sciences.

Mr. Van expounding on his own philosophy.

"The teacher is always right," says Mrs. Comparato.

Miss Hunt and her eager scholars.

BUSINESS

The rhythmic click of the typewriter in 103 tells us that another busy student secretary is transcribing her dictation. In Roosevelt's BUSINESS DEPARTMENT, she is given intensive training necessary to enter the commercial world.

In addition to teaching the skills of typing, the capable business teachers acquaint the student with the nature of business and its relationship to today's economic world. An introduction to business mathematics and law offers him a practical approach to the understanding of current business trends.

Girls who intend to seek office positions after graduation have the opportunity to train on modern equipment, while many college-bound students find courses in typing and shorthand or speed-writing invaluable assets in their college courses.

Because of the excellent training the business student receives, she is capable of giving valuable assistance to teachers and the office staff, and she does this willingly. This too serves her in good stead, for she is better prepared to solve future office problems.

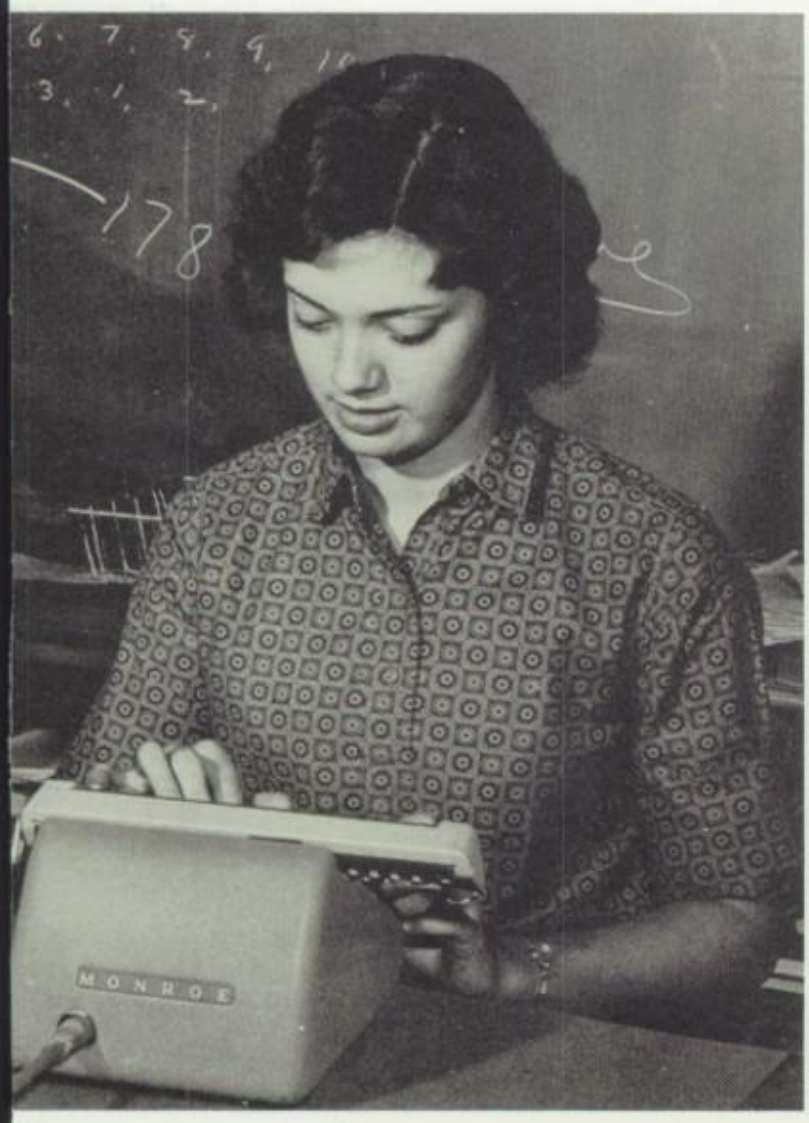
Gail Sorensen and Joanne Carroll become proficient at electronic adding.

Mrs. Moss is ready for action.

Seated: Mrs. Myra Moss, Mrs. Antoinette McCurdy, Dr. Walter Kaufmann, Miss Joellen Gill. Standing: Miss Patricia Hunt, Mr. Harry Goder.



"It's elementary, my dear class," says our new typing teacher, Miss Gill.

ARTS

Miss Dorothy Andrews, vocal music; Mr. Benjamin Brooks, wood shop; Mrs. Arlene Moeller, art; Mr. Howard Linke, ceramics; Mr. John Casmer, mechanical drawing; Miss Vera Hyra, homemaking; Mr. John Humphrey, instrumental music.

"One more adjustment, and we're set to sew," as Miss Hyra prepares Lucy Singer.

"Well, that's a good question, Jack," says Mr. Casmer.

Since students need to appreciate the cultural as well as the academic phases of life, the ARTS DEPARTMENT offers anyone at Roosevelt the opportunity to express himself through music, art, or handicraft.

The choir and band offer keen enjoyment to performers and listeners alike. Both organizations have brought to Roosevelt recognition for service to the community. The choir gives Christmas concerts at City Hall, the Board of Education, and Wanamakers, while the band plays at all football games and in all Yonkers parades. These musical groups also send representatives to All-county and All-state choirs and orchestras.

Courses in art, ceramics, or fashion satisfy the desires of those with artistic talent; while homemaking, wood shop and mechanical drawing give students an opportunity to develop practical skills and manual dexterity.

All members of the Arts faculty help students to develop latent talents and interests. For this aid, Roosevelt students are very grateful.

Mr. Brooks and Joe DeLong adjust the lathe.

HEALTH and PHYS. ED.

Health and Physical Education faculty: Coach Henry Monaco, Mrs. Anna Mark, Coach Joseph Seidell, Mrs. Julia Reagan, Mrs. Rosetta Donaghue.

Checking attendance is serious business for Coach Seidell.

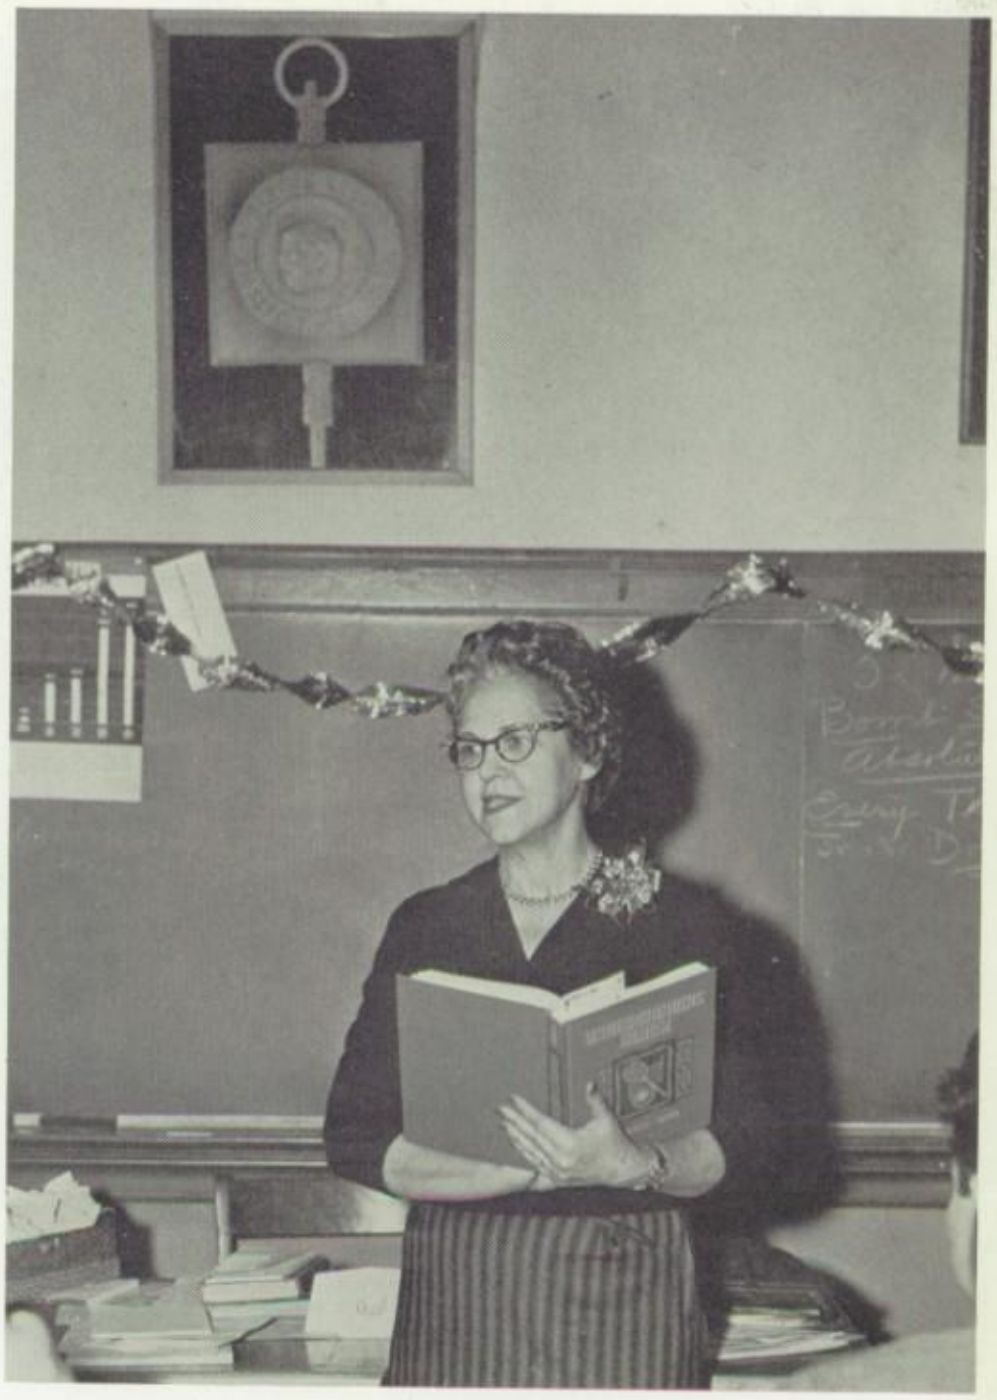
It's a topsy-turvy world to Pam Lange, Ursula Kurkowski, and Judy Fields.

The importance of total health — physical, mental, emotional, and social is stressed in the HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT at Roosevelt. As high school students, we must be taught the responsibilities that accompany maturity, and the important role of various agencies in promoting healthful and successful living.

Directed by Mrs. Reagan, we learn the history, background, and known causes of most of the common diseases, as well as the methods of prevention and proper treatment. The selection of a vocation, and the importance of securing good professional advice in the choice is also emphasized.

Since sound physical fitness is a prerequisite for healthy maturity, in both gymnasiums we learn, through sports and exercise, to develop physical dexterity and coordination while learning cooperation and sportmanship.

These four years of diversified training provide a firm foundation with which to enter the world awaiting us.



Service and health go hand in hand with Mrs. Reagan.

Mrs. Vera Joslin in pensive mood.

OFFICE STAFF

Mrs. Gertrude Cooper, registrar; Mrs. Lucy Bradley, secretary to Mr. Reagan; Miss Diane Fetchko, registrar.

Many Roosevelt students complete their high school lives without giving thought and credit to their dedicated OFFICE STAFF. Mrs. Cooper, Miss Fetchko, and Mrs. Bradley literally "open and close the building" each day. In the daily bulletin, each student is informed of all events that will take place. Seniors owe much to the careful attention paid to their transcripts and the systematic way in which they are forwarded to the colleges.

The office is the hub around which the entire school revolves; the efficient service rendered, and the pleasant atmosphere under which business is conducted, is true tribute indeed to our office staff.

Miss Fetchko edits the daily news.

The PARENT TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION supplies Roosevelt with that badly needed "helping hand." Indeed, whenever there is a need, the P.T.A. is there to assist.

Throughout the school year the P.T.A. is active around Roosevelt High School. At the first meeting, the members greeted Mr. Reagan, the new principal. Soon after there was a panel with the Roosevelt guidance staff. The P.T.A. sponsored too a "Parent's Night" so that parents and teachers might meet, a Teachers' Recognition Day and the College Conference at Lincoln High School for Roosevelt and Lincoln students and parents. Their Dessert Card Party was a pleasant and successful way of raising money for their scholarship fund. And that wonderful little booklet exploring every phase of Roosevelt life including the school calendar — the P.T.A. puts it out, of course! For all this and so much more, we are deeply indebted to the Roosevelt Parent-Teachers' Association.

A gala gathering at the P.T.A. bridge.

Seated: Mrs. V. Echternach — Vice-President — membership, Mrs. R. Strong — Treasurer, Mrs. B. Cohen — Vice-President — program, Mrs. H. Flower — President, Mrs. D. Mahlke — Vice-President, Mrs. E. Drisko — Vice-President — hospitality, Mrs. C. Moore — Correspondence Secretary. Standing: Mrs. S. Goldman, Mrs. L. Stokes, Mrs. H. Brown, Mrs. O. Prezioso, Mrs. K. Frelund, Mrs. E. Snedeker, Mrs. L. Morrissey, Mrs. P. Mackey, Mrs. D. Andrews, Mrs. L. Mastrovoto — Recording Secretary.

CORDONS - BLEUS

Mrs. Burns and Mrs. Deling prepare lunches.

In any organization there are inevitably those behind-the-scenes workers who must also be recognized and appreciated for what they do. The Roosevelt organization includes such capable CUSTODIAL AND CAFETERIA STAFFS. While we students are studying and learning, these active people are working hard to keep the school functioning smoothly.

Despite the inconveniences of our building program, in which work is progressing on both wings and the main building itself, the custodians manage to keep the classrooms and corridors warm, clean, and in good repair. Thanks to them and their patience, we have a comfortable atmosphere in which to work.

While the custodians and matron are caring for our physical needs, other valuable workers are preparing food to satisfy many hearty appetites. Lunch hour, short though it is, is made more pleasant due to the efforts of the fine ladies in the cafeteria.

Our hats are off to all of these competent, cheerful staff members who, through their daily endeavors, make our school life more satisfactory.

Mrs. Eva Homiak is proud of Roosevelt's trophies.

To give recognition for outstanding achievements, the Roosevelt High School Chapter of the NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY was begun in 1954. Through the years, at solemn induction ceremonies held in May and November, it has rewarded those who have exhibited character, scholarship, leadership, and service with the golden torch pin, symbolic of the society.

Under the leadership of President David Kies, Vice-President James McGorry, Secretary Emily Bardack, and Treasurer Beatrice Hamilton, the 1960-61 society has well served its school.

Newly inducted juniors ushered at the 1960 Commencement Exercises. During their senior year, members organized a successful College Day program, decorated the school Christmas tree, and offered a tutoring service.

This year the Honor Society, after its November induction, lunched at Patricia Murphy's along with its sponsors Miss Scott, Miss Hunt, Mrs. Comparato, and Miss Montgomery. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. MacIntyre, who expressed their best wishes for the continuance of the society.

Outstanding scholastic accomplishment is indicative of the clear thinking, responsible student. Roosevelt is proud to be graduating a senior class composed of many such top calibre students.

On Graduation Day, two outstanding speeches were delivered by the top academic leaders of the Class of 1961. Valedictorian Emily Bardack and Salutatorian Jonathan Fagin well deserved the honors accorded to their academic accomplishments.

Each year, too, the senior class votes for the boy and girl whom they feel have best exemplified service, scholarship, and the spirit of Roosevelt. This year Margret Brunnock and Jerry Armstrong were chosen Outstanding Senior Boy and Girl.

In ever increasing competition among high school seniors, Roosevelt seniors won nineteen state Regents scholarships, a Yonkers record. In addition, five members of the pilot group of the National Honor Society were finalists in the National Honor Society Scholarship program. Of the participants in the National Merit Scholarship program, twenty-two seniors received "Letters of Commendation." Outstanding achievements such as these are living proof of the coordinated efforts of devoted teachers and hard-working students.

Preparing to take their place as the student leaders of Roosevelt in 1962, this year's Junior Class has functioned smoothly in attaining a creditable record.

Part of this success may be attributed to the outstanding supervision and assistance of their sponsors, Miss Margaret Dignan, Miss Patricia Hunt, and Mr. David Aitcheson. The representatives of the JUNIOR CLASS, the Junior Council, led by Richard Azzarro, president; John Echternach, vice-president; Joan Fennimore, secretary; and Joan Ortolani, treasurer, planned and successfully completed the activities and outings of the class.

One of the most exciting events of the year was the distribution of the coveted Roosevelt rings. The climax of the social season arrived with the gala Junior Prom.

This past year the Juniors have prepared themselves well for their future responsibilities as Roosevelt seniors.

"Go with G.O." is the slogan that starts off every school year. From then on the GENERAL ORGANIZATION keeps the extra-curricular activities running by supplying a budget, maintaining the sports program and keeping the Injuns happy.

With the loyal backing of Roosevelt students, the G.O. has been able to expand its many activities. Socially, through the efforts of the student body, the G.O. supports the school organizations and clubs; sponsors many of the dances, including the Hugh D. MacIntyre Teen Center; and the sports events throughout the year. The G.O. also benefits students financially by offering them reductions at the athletic meets and school functions as well as in the local shops and theaters. The G.O. store supplies students with items that they need in their school work at discount prices.

Having as its nucleus of leadership President Jerry Armstrong, Vice-President Bob Oetjen, Secretary Pat Magaletta, and Treasurer Sally Yurkowski, the G.O. is guided by Mr. Worthington, Coach Seidell, and Mr. Aitcheson.

Today there is a constant need to reduce the tensions existing among all the member nations of the world. A common bond of understanding must survive among these countries with different ancestries, traditions, and idealogies before any effective accomplishments can be attained on the diplomatic level. In order to help improve present conditions the AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE FOREIGN STUDENT EXCHANGE PROGRAM was inaugurated. Through the program, a participating school is entitled to send one of its students abroad to any of the various member nations over the world, and, in return, to receive another student to share in the heritage of its community, school and country.

Last summer Roosevelt High School was proud to send its first student abroad. Donerine Echternach traveled by ship with many other exchange students to Barcelona, Spain, where she spent an exciting and educational summer. This fall Roosevelt welcomed its second exchange student, Andy Takahashi from Tokyo, Japan, to our school. We hope that Andy has learned to recognize the true American way of life. We hope too, that he has profited as much from contact with us as we have from him; for his presence has helped to broaden our outlook and enrich our lives. For all the hard work of the R.H.S. chapter of A.F.S. to bring this about, Roosevelt is truly grateful.

Dee Dee Echternach, American foreign student exchange student to Spain, and Andy Takahashi, Japanese exchange student, agree, "It's a small world."

A.F.S. leader Laurel, greets Roosevelt's Ambassador of Good Will, Dee Dee.

A friendly chat for Andy and his adopted family, Ken and Winnie Adams.

Each year a new L'Envoi is born — part of a family with a continuing tradition of excellence. In one sense, L'ENVOI takes a year to mature; but, in another sense, its life expectancy goes far beyond this, when one thinks of the times we will reminisce over our high school years.

The hands and minds of many persons must join together to produce the result. The main responsibility for production lies in the various staffs: art, photography, business, literary, sports, layout, and general, which are co-ordinated by the co-editors, Margaret Brunnock and Suzanne Newman with their associate Michael Lew. However, without the tireless guidance of our advisers: Mrs. Moeller, Dr. Kaufmann, Mrs. Steiner, and Miss Willner, the dreams and efforts of the entire staff could not become reality — L'Envoi, 1961.

Everyone wants to be well-informed these days, and Roosevelt High students are no exception. The monthly arrival of the CRIMSON ECHO brings to all subscribers a summary of past events, articles concerning the future, and thoughtful editorials. Featuring the Totem Pole of outstanding seniors and a Papoose Pole for prominent juniors, the Echo provides good reading, excitement, and pleasures galore.

At the top of the Crimson Echo's staff of journalists is the Editor-in-chief, Emily Bardack. Under the editor is the fine staff of future journalists, businessmen, circulators, artists, and photographers. United into one renowned tribe under the leadership of Dr. Ruby Kaiser, the Crimson Echo staff features excellent journalistic style, not only for R.H.S., but also as a member of the National Honorary Quill and Scroll Society.

With the able assistance of Mrs. Lafferty and a competent staff headed by Sue Andrews, editor-in-chief, Roosevelt is proud to publish its annual literary magazine Reflection. Reflection provides the creative and talented writer with a chance to express his ideas for the benefit of the other students. An interested reader can discover almost any phase of writing. Within the pages of Reflection the essays, poems, short stories, and plays reflect the innermost thoughts and ideals of Roosevelt students.

Recognition for accomplishments in Roosevelt is not confined within these walls. Accounts of special assembly programs, honors bestowed upon students, and activities of some of our clubs are sent to local newspapers through the PUBLICITY CLUB. Under the leadership of Tom Hannah and the guidance of Mrs. Lafferty, this club has brought well-deserved local acknowledgment to our school.

Debating is the art of discussing controversial issues on a high level. Our talented spokesmen in the DEBATING CLUB aim to present convincingly their arguments. The 1960-61 goal is to retain the County Championship which was won last year. This year's team has many returnees from last year's champs. Under the tutelage of Mrs. Aldona Brucker and her experienced student leaders, Barbara Hackman and Stuart Fischer, Roosevelt can once again be proud it its distinguished debators.

A happy combination — parent, teacher, and student receptionist.

Service with a smile.

THE ROOSEVELT SERVICE LEAGUE has expanded to greater and greater achievements each year as a result of the willing and devoted service of so many students and faculty members. Supervised by Mrs. Reagan, Mrs. Buckley, Miss Hunt and Mr. Martin, the Service League, led by James McGorry, once again had a successful year.

Two Cake Sales held during the first term were a great success, due to the combined efforts of all the school organizations whose representatives make up the Service League Executive Council.

For the outstanding seniors, there is the Service League Honor Corps whose members are especially commended for giving outstanding service to the school faculty and the student body. These students are honored during a spring assembly at which they receive their service keys, and are the guests at a luncheon following the ceremony.

In preparation for a life dedicated to humanity, the FUTURE NURSES OF AMERICA and NURSE'S AIDES present an opportunity to Roosevelt High School girls interested in becoming nurses.

The Nurse's Aides gain experience by assisting Mrs. Vera Joslin, school nurse, in her many duties here in school. On the other hand, members of F.N.A. visit hospitals and nurses' training schools for first hand information on the profession. Further, they must offer their services at least one hour every week in one of the local hospitals.

Through these two organizations, prospective nurses have the opportunity to discover for themselves the drawbacks and benefits of a rewarding career.

Those who have teaching in mind have a fine opportunity here at Roosevelt to explore the many facets of the profession.

Under the able sponsorship of Mrs. Mary Troy, the May M. Henry Branch has fulfilled the many high ideals of the FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA. Members serve in neighboring elementary schools, hold stimulating discussions, and tutor underclassmen at Roosevelt.

Highlight of our year is always the ceremony for the induction of officers and new members. Present at the 1960-61 assemblage were Mrs. May Henry, Mrs. Mabel Chappel, Mrs. Wm. R. Epes, member of the Board of Education, our principals and guidance teachers. Fifteen future teachers were inducted. Future Teachers of America indeed serves a noble purpose for many students.

The present chaotic state of world affairs lends urgent importance to the activities of the FRENCH, SPANISH, and INTERNATIONAL CLUBS. Their purpose is the study of foreign countries — their languages, their cultures, and their customs. At meetings, interesting and informed guests speak to members about their travels in some of these nations and give personal observations of the land and its people.

Highlighting the year was a pooling of talents by the three clubs in an International Get-Together. This was a fun-filled afternoon with a full measure of singing, dancing, and eating, all with an international flavor.

Cultural events held important spots on the agenda of events of the clubs. The French Club attended the Comedie Francaise; and the Spanish Club heard a concert given by Andres Sergovia.

Through these circles of international brotherhood and understanding, students develop a keen interest in the fellowship of all men and an insight into global problems, the solution of which may be hopefully found in greater knowledge.

Service is the giving of one's time and energy on behalf of others. Here at Roosevelt High School, students find ways of serving their school in many capacities, such as library aides or guidance and office helpers.

LIBRARY AIDES are intelligent students with a knowledge of cataloging and reference materials, and are invaluable in returning books to shelves, and reminding forgetful students of overdue books. Thus they are excellent time-savers for busy Miss Havey.

The GUIDANCE and OFFICE SQUADS handle routine typing and clerical chores, thus permitting the more efficient operation of these two vital departments.

Both the Secretarial Service League and the Art Service league devote their time to keeping Roosevelt High School running smoothly. The SECRETARIAL SERVICE LEAGUE, organized this year, assists in lightening the office's unending clerical burden. The ART SERVICE LEAGUE publicizes the worthwhile activities pertaining to the school and community.

Under the presidency of Doug Weir, the AUDIO-VISUAL CLUB continues to perform many services that enrich the normal life of the school. They take care of all films shown both in classrooms and at assembly, as well as the lighting and sound for all assembly programs and stage productions. R.H.S. is truly indebted to these hard workers for their assistance.

It takes a good playwright to create in script a story for the stage, but it also takes an excellent cast to be able to express the playwright's feelings and entertain the audience. Intensive instruction as well as experience are necessary to develop a good actor.

Here at Roosevelt any student interested in dramatics has the opportunity to try his skill. Two faculty members, Austin Kilcullen and Mrs. Francine Fettman, help members of WIG AND WHISKERS, the dramatics club, to obtain invaluable theatrical experience.

This spring Peter Ustinov's Romanoff and Juliet was presented for the student body and the public. It had a fine cast, some of whom had starred in former productions, and some of whom were new to the bright lights, heavy make-up, and long, tedious hours of rehearsals of a theatrical career.

Richard Becker and Miss Dorothy Andrews — "No, that comes on the fourth beat."

Roosevelt boasts not one but several fine choirs. Their sweet melodies fill the hallways from eight o'clock in the morning through the day, giving almost everyone a preview of Miss Dorothy Andrews' two fine annual concerts.

The glory of the Roosevelt CHOIRS echoes further than the school's corridors. At Christmas a select group entertains the Kiwanis, City Hall employees, and the staff of the Board of Education. On January 28, a few carefully chosen choristers perform in the annual county-wide concert given by the New York State Music Association in the County Center in White Plains.

To each choir member comes the enjoyment and fulfillment of the invaluable experience of being a Roosevelt chorister.

A rousing note of good cheer around Roosevelt is the BAND. Under the able and inspiring leadership of Mr. John Humphrey, the band has entertained the student body on many occasions.

The stirring music is often enhanced by the skillful and pretty TWIRLERS who enrich the band's playing on the football field and in the annual spring concert. In addition to these events, the band presents its annual Christmas program and livens up every pep-assembly.

Some outstanding band members are privileged to attend the All-county Music Festival at White Plains County Center each year. This year the festival was held January 27 and 28 and was a very rewarding experience for all the participating musicians.

Each student member of the band finds that he gets both a great deal of fun and a sound musical education.

Pam, Dee Dee, and Pat fly through the air with the greatest of ease.

"But Pam, my way is better," says Muriel.

"They can't do that to us!"

With swirling skirts, vibrant voices, and captivating charm, the CHEER-LEADERS led the way through another successful season. Pam Metanis and Pat Macior, captain and co-captain respectively, had a proficient squad, with Mrs. Rodner once again at the helm as sponsor. Football and basketball games would not be the same without these girls. They work long hours perfecting their routines and giving matchless performances at the games. They love to cheer, but we love to watch them even more.

The warm smiles of the friendly RECEPTIONISTS are welcome to Roosevelt visitors. Organized by Mrs. Reagan, the girls wearing the red badge are also ready and eager to deliver messages and run errands for the office staff and teachers. They also offer their help at functions and assemblies sponsored by the P.T.A. and other important organizations in the school.

The health of a student body as large as Roosevelt's is of major importance. Mrs. Vera Joslin, therefore, welcomes the help of homeroom HEALTH REPRESENTATIVES who keep records of the doctor and dental reports of our student body.

Also in the homeroom are P.T.A. REPRESENTATIVES. These responsible students attend P.T.A. meetings and assist in the membership drive of this group of interested parents.

The members of the Teen Center Council.

Roosevelt High School's TEEN CENTER is unique in that it boasts a larger number of active participants than any other school organization.

The Teen Center functions on Friday nights, alternating with the basketball games. Popular school bands or a juke box supply the music. Chess, T.V., table-tennis or just conversation provide individual entertainment.

We owe the success of the Teen Center to its sincere sponsors: Miss Andrews, Coach Seidell, and Mr. Worthington; and to its capable president, Peter Kellner.

For precision and pride Roosevelt can look both to its COLOR GUARD and CIVIL DEFENSE SQUAD.

Presiding at all official assemblies, affairs, and parades, our Color Guard proudly displays the flag of our country and also that of our school.

According to the football prognosticators, the 1960 season would be dismal for the Indians. However, through determination, ability, and excellent coaching, Roosevelt overcame the pre-season odds to become the football champions of Yonkers. Here's how they did it.

Two early season losses marred the Indians' slate. They were downed by Port Chester, 32-0, and turned back by A. B. Davis, 20-13. However, both these defeats, especially the latter where Roosevelt almost emerged victorious, showed great promise of things to come.

In their next encounter, the Indians conquered the Lincoln Lancers 6-0. Ed. Costa capped an 80-yard drive by scoring from the five-yard line to end Roosevelt's long victory famine.

With their sights now set on the city title, the Redskins tomahawked Yonkers 26-21. Led by the running of Ed Costa, the passing of Bob Pufahl, and the receiving of Chipper Eggleton, the Rough Riders demonstrated great offensive strength. The defense also starred with a game-saving, desperation goal-line stand.

In a crucial contest, the Gorton Wolves held Roosevelt to a 6-6 deadlock. A 62-yard run by Ed Costa gave the Indians their only touchdown, but another long jaunt was nullified by a penalty. A spectacular catch by Frelund found the Redskins camped on the Gorton 10-yard line, but time snatched victory from Roosevelt's grasp.

The annual Thanksgiving Day game saw the city crown returned to Roosevelt as the Indian scalped Saunders-Commerce 7-6. Again Ed Costa supplied the running power and Junior end Kerry DeCesare scored all the points on two pass receptions.

So, under the tutelage of Coach Henry "Hank" Monaco and Assistant Coach Luther Thomas, the Roosevelt football team clinched the city championship as predicted in last year's yearbook.

and UP-AND-COMING J. V.

Perhaps the best J.V. team in Roosevelt High School history rolled over all four of its city opponents. Led by Marty and Julius Williams, Danny Garrett's six touchdowns, and the excellent line play of Monty Connors and Sal Cuccia, the team finished the campaign unbeaten, untied, and unscored upon. The championship Roosevelt varsity squad can look forward to outstanding assistance from this year's Junior Varsity, which was well handled by Coaches Luther Thomas and Frank Kosky.

In the City meet, Roosevelt harriers made a fine third-place showing. The fleet senior, John Slater, lead the team in both city and county meets, finishing third and eighth respectively.

Other outstanding performers were Dan Fillo, Tom McLaughlin, Jim Kopernick, and Steve Eifert. The loss of Harry Brand, because of a leg injury, prevented a possible Indian victory in the city.

With four varsity runners returning for next year's campaign, Coach Joe Seidell can look forward to a banner season.

CAGERS COP

In real Roosevelt athletic tradition, this year's cagers swept through the final games of the season to capture the city title once again.

Both in and out of the city, the rivalry was fierce, and the play hard. Coach Seidell, in the process of rebuilding a squad depleted by graduation, tried many different combinations until he hit upon the right one. Only Neil Farber and Charley Eggleton remained stationary throughout the campaign, with Cary Fields moved into the backcourt in mid-season to take command. Pete Assail, Phil Natoli, Art Frelund, Dave Friedman, and Bobby Allen alternated at the other positions.

The coveted city crown was taken in spectacular fashion. The Boys thoroughly trounced Yonkers 84-65, avenging the only blemish on their 9-1 city record, an earlier 64-50 defeat at the hands of the Bulldogs.

The going was rough off the reservation, but with all-city stars Farber and Fields popping them in, we did reach the finals of the Double A Division Tournament at the County Center. Our constant nemesis, White Plains, provided a 56-53 letdown, but, in looking back over the season, the successful blending of this inexperienced, unheralded team, into one of championship caliber, more than offset this.

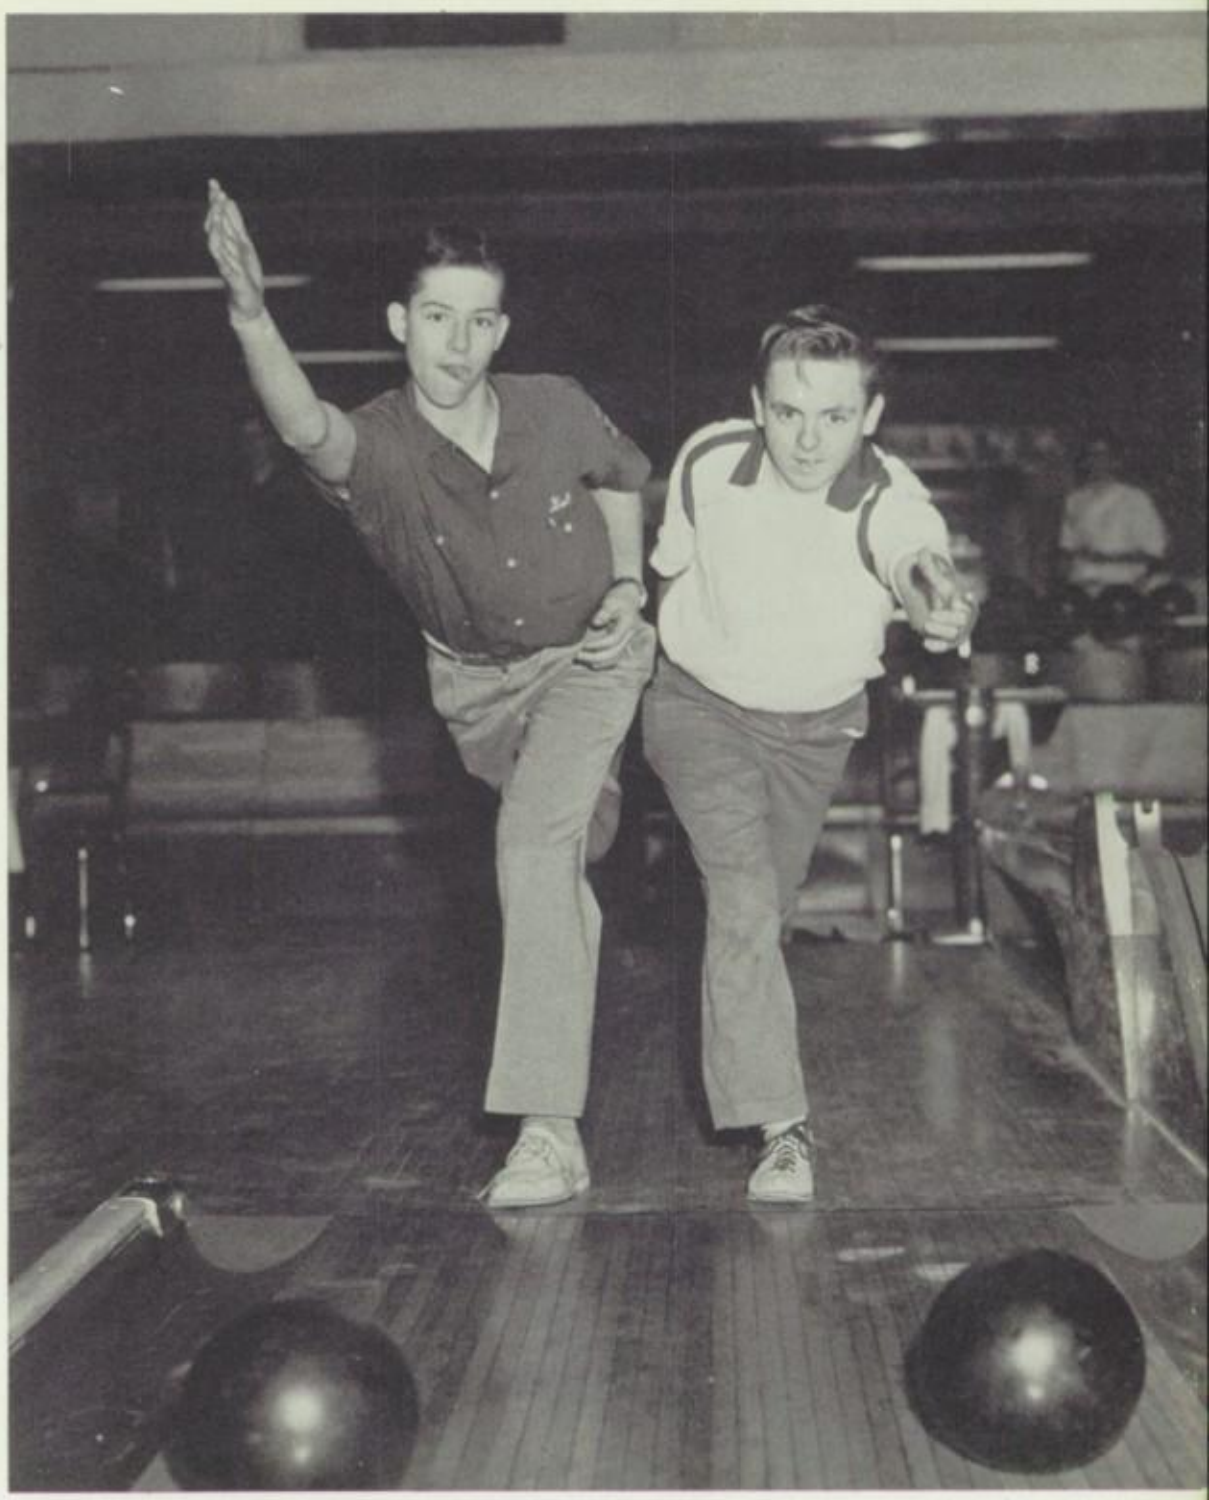
The Junior Varsity, coached by Roosevelt grad Hank Fischer, compiled a 7-8 record this season. After early season jitters the boys started playing together and the team improved considerably. Led in scoring by two promising varsity prospects — Andy Cavaliere and Danny Garrett, the J.V.'s were in the fight for the W.I.A.A. crown, losing it to White Plains in the season's finale. Other promising prospects included Riina, Martin, Misarti, and Natale.

Cavaliere's set for the rebound as Martin pops from the corner.

For the first time in history the Injun bowling team has dominated Section I competition. The boys, led by high-scoring junior Frank Faranda and Captain Bob Gioggia rode roughshod over their city-league competition. Stars in their own right were veterans Hank Fields, Mal Davis, and Bob Follett, who are helpful in maintaining a county-high pin average of 165 plus per game.



Gioggia and Faranda make the seven-ten split the easy way.

SWIMMING TEAM

Increased spirit, determination, and skill enabled the RHS AQUAMEN to splash their way to a better record than had been predicted by pre-season prognosticators. Co-captains John Slater, who was selected to the All-City team, and Bob Gallagher were the team mainstays. Other stalwarts Stu Fischer, Marty Healy, Les Burman, and Tom McLaughlin also garnered many important victories. Coach Joe Rodner believes that this year's team was the best we have had in many seasons.

RIFLE TEAM

This past season was one of the best for the INDIAN SHARPSHOOTERS. Under the excellent instruction of Mr. Bruce Worthington, the team finished fourth in the County League. Leading the sharpshooters were Bob Frey who turned in a 183 total at the Scarsdale match. Other high scorers were Co-captains Bob Oetjen and Bob Fleischer. The high-point of the season came when the Crimson marksmen came close to beating Scarsdale, the number one team in the League.

We are looking forward to an even better showing next year when juniors Bob Desgrey and Jay Drisko will return.

Skip, there's enough water in the pool, now!

OUR BASEBALL, GOLF

Roosevelt's defending CITY BASEBALL CHAMPS, captained by All-City Neil Farber and again coached by Mr. Seidell, are looking forward to successfully defending their crown. Due to the rehabilitation of the Roosevelt field, all home games will be played at Fleming Field.

Last year's players — Richard Erdoes, Charlie Eggleton, Jack Churchill, Hank Fields, Marty Sheridan, Bob Bonchak, Cliff LaDrew, and Frank Faranda will form the nucleus of another championship team.

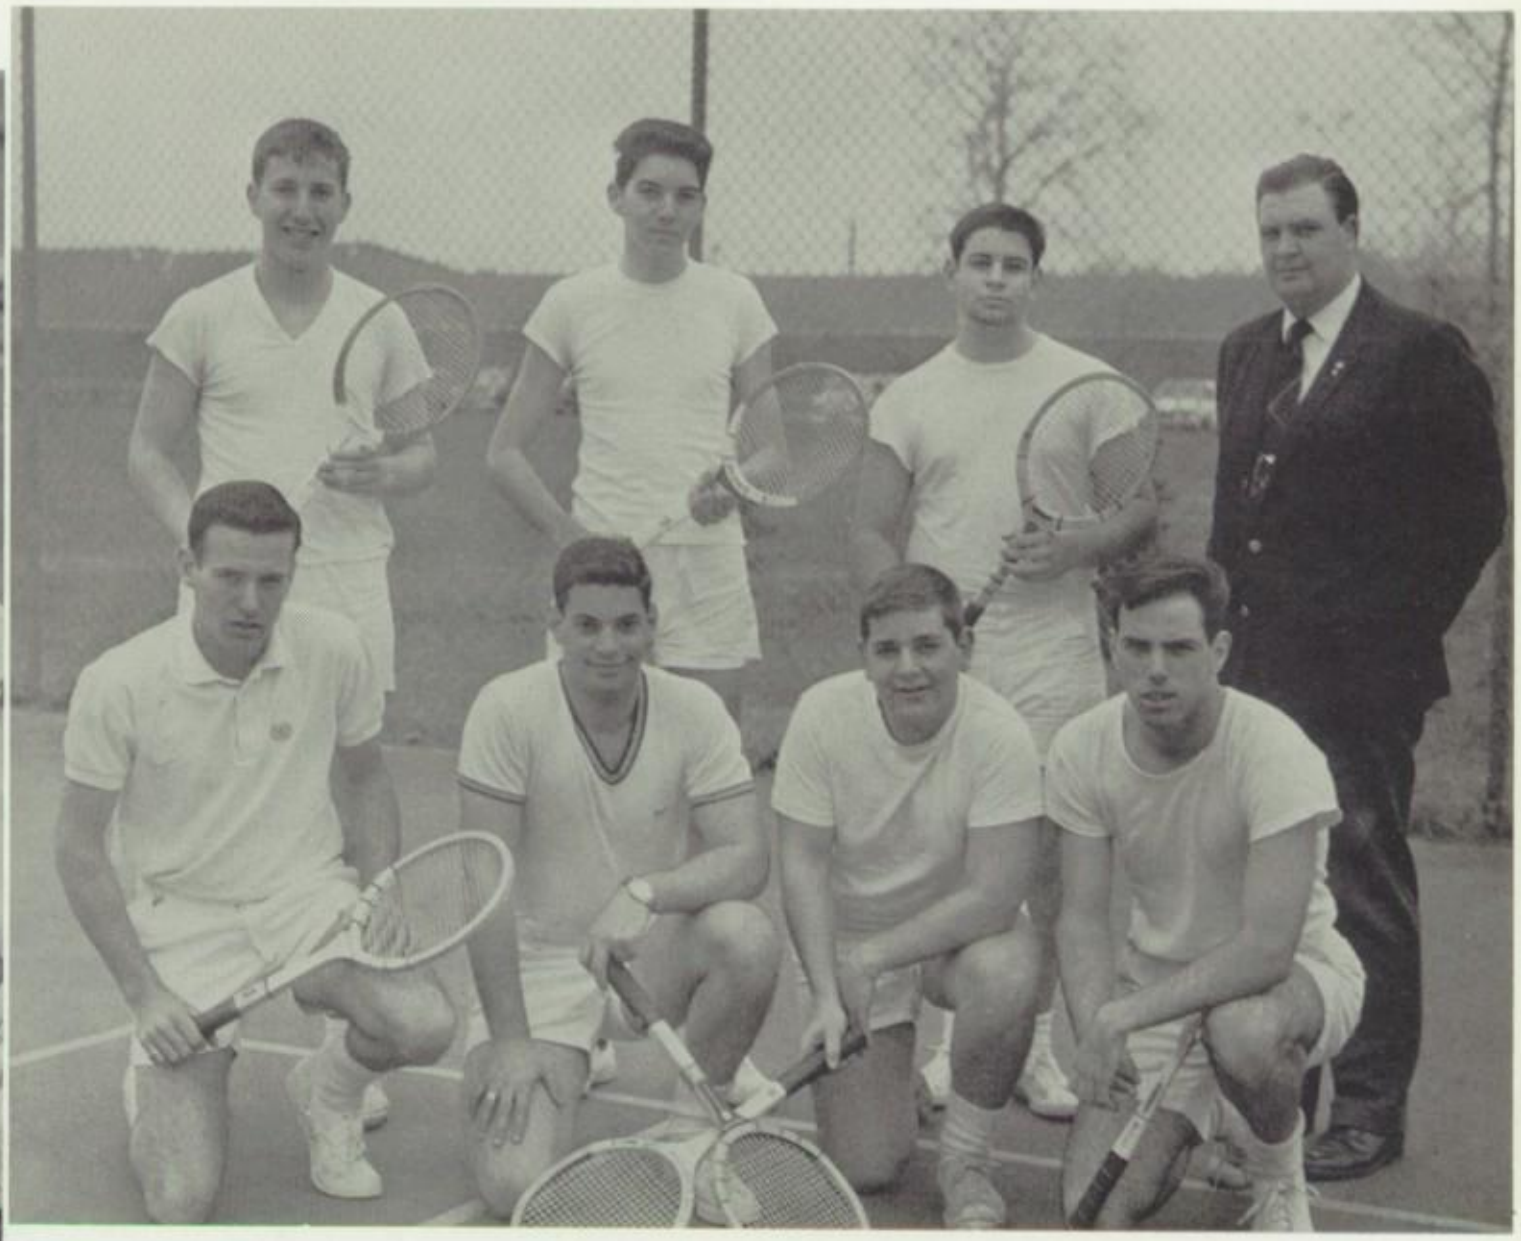
AND TENNIS TEAMS



TENNIS TEAM. Row One: T. Ware, J. Morgan, I. Redner, S. Fisher (captain). Row Two: D. Kies, A. Wendrow, A. Muson, Mr. David Aitcheson (coach).

The TENNIS TEAM, led by captain Stuart Fischer, junior Ted Ware, and five other returning lettermen, is well on its way toward its sixth straight city championship. Coach David Aitcheson believes this year's team is among the most powerful in the county, with Ware a fine prospect for the future. Experience and balance are the distinguishing characteristics of the team, and all would-be foes beware.

City champs four years running, this year's GOLF TEAM gives promise of extending this resounding record of City championship foursomes far into the future. The team is led by Captain Bob Bochnak who has posted the low score for the year — 71. Although George Minchak, Bobby Mayer, and Bob are the only returnees from last year's team, these three, plus newcomer Doug Ford, promise to present a formidable array of talent to any and all challangers. The team, whose terrain is Dunwoodie Golf Course, will be in contention all the way for Section I and State honors.

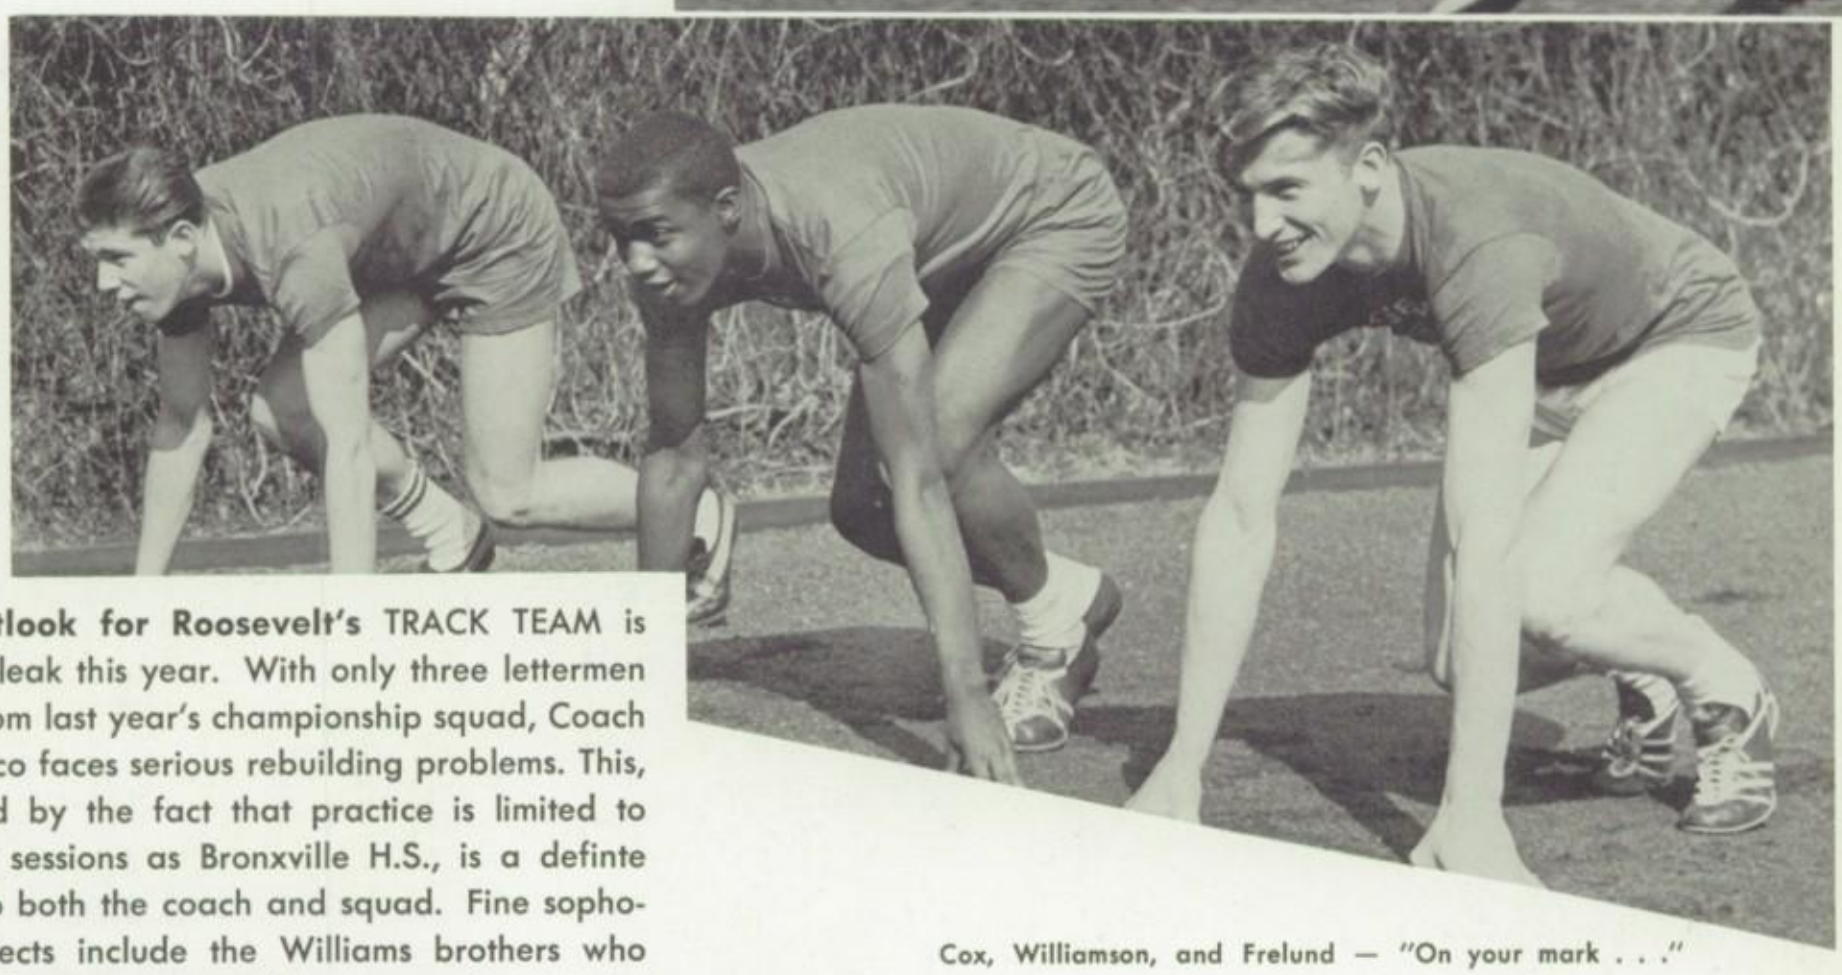
TRACK TEAM

Noel Schultz — a study in the application of force vectors.



Cox, Williamson, and Frelund — "On your mark . . ."

The outlook for Roosevelt's TRACK TEAM is somewhat bleak this year. With only three lettermen returning from last year's championship squad, Coach Hank Monaco faces serious rebuilding problems. This, compounded by the fact that practice is limited to two weekly sessions as Bronxville H.S., is a definte challenge to both the coach and squad. Fine sophomore prospects include the Williams brothers who should develop into outstanding competitors in the short distance events.

CAPABLE

Under the able supervision of Mrs. Anna Mark and Mrs. Rosetta Donoghue, the girls' gym classes are run smoothly and efficiently. However, with the assistance and cooperation of the CLASS CAPTAINS, their burden is considerably lightened. These girls are selected to demonstrate the skills which they have developed and to provide the necessary leadership and example for their teams. Combining athletic skills with guidance and enthusiasm, the Captain's Club is helping to produce outstanding women for tomorrow's world.

At a time when the physical fitness of American youth is being deplored, the girls' gym classes here at Roosevelt try to disprove this theory. Beginning in September, the girls are tested on their strength, endurance, accuracy, agility, posture, and balance as compared with other girls in New York State. The outcome of these tests is used to determine status and team standings in the individual physical education classes. The girls who score nine or over become members of the PHYSICAL FITNESS CLUB whose task it is to help other girls raise their averages.

Through the year in the different units of work, all the students try to raise their physical fitness ratings. Since they realize that in order to have a sound mind, one must have a sound body, the girls at Roosevelt try to achieve both in their physical education classes.

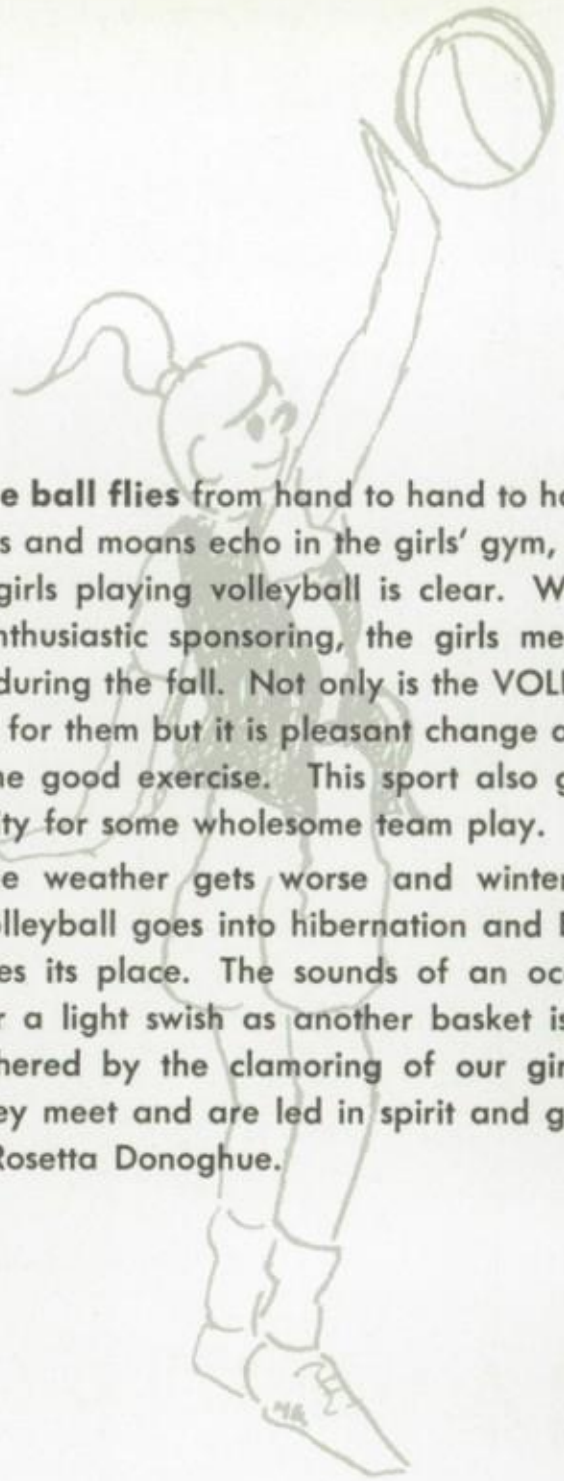
VOLLEYBALL CLUB

Big bubble — little Marty.



As the ball flies from hand to hand to hand and the cheers and moans echo in the girls' gym, the true spirit of girls playing volleyball is clear. With Mrs. Mark's enthusiastic sponsoring, the girls meet each Tuesday during the fall. Not only is the VOLLEYBALL CLUB fun for them but it is pleasant change and provides some good exercise. This sport also gives an opportunity for some wholesome team play.

As the weather gets worse and winter comes closer, volleyball goes into hibernation and BASKETBALL takes its place. The sounds of an occasional whistle or a light swish as another basket is scored are smothered by the clamoring of our girl hoopsters. They meet and are led in spirit and guidance by Mrs. Rosetta Donoghue.

Grace, poise and creativity are displayed by these young ladies of the FOLK DANCING and MODERN DANCING CLUBS. Once a week these clubs meet to provide Roosevelt girls with wholesome exercise and the fun of dancing. The intricate dance steps to the folk music of other lands were taught by Mrs. Mark to Roosevelt's folk dancers, while Mrs. Donoghue supervised the interpretive efforts of the Modern Dance group.

Ten-pins fly and scores climb when these young ladies of the GIRLS' BOWLING CLUB invade the Grassy Sprain Alleys each Tuesday. These energetic girls not only enjoy the friendly atmosphere and companionship of others but they increase in skill and coordination under the able guidance of Mrs. Anna Mark and Miss Joellen Gill.
